Phone Strike Is Now Believed In Final Stages

Enters Fifth Week With Conciliators Hopeful Of Early Settlement

NEGOTIATIONS WILL BE RESUMED AT 3
By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The national telephone strike appeared to be in its final stages today with government conciliators optimistic over prospects for a "speedy settlement" during the fifth week of the walk-out.

Members of two Illinois affiliates of the National Federation of Telephone Workers and four independent unions in New York have voted to accept a $4 weekly wage increase. In Chicago, the commercial telephone workers union and the federation of telephone clerks agreed to the four-dollar figure. The two unions represented the first affiliates to break away from the NPTW and make their own decisions.

A third Illinois affiliate, representing 11,000 operators, was urged by its president to turn down the four-dollar offer.

To Resume Parley
Negotiations were to be resumed at 3 p. m. at the labor department in the key long-lines phase of the strike and the AT&T was expected to make a new proposal.

Peter J. Manno and William Margolis, federal conciliators in the long-lines case, said: "In our opinion, the parties are now off 'dead center' and a speedy settlement should be in the making."

This optimistic statement was issued despite AT&T's formal rejection of a government compromise proposal for a wage increase averaging $5.14 weekly for 22,000 long distance operators in 42 states.

John J. Moran, head of NPTW's long-lines affiliate, had accepted the federal offer. He said the union was "far from satisfied" with it but accepted "in the interest of the public."

Demands Are Trimmed
All 39 striking affiliates of the NPTW originally sought a $12 a week pay boost but then trimmed their demands to $6 a week to make them conform to second-round wage increase in other industries.

The AT&T thus far has offered a wage increase of $2 to $4 weekly to long distance operators but it was rejected by the union.

G. S. Dring, AT&T assistant vice-president, said in turning down the compromise of $5.14 that the company would "review the situation to see if we can make another counter-proposal."

Such a counter-proposal may come today.

The government compromise called for an average wage rate adjustment of $5.14.

French Premier Purges Cabinet Of Communists

By LEON PEARSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, May 5.—(INS)—Premier Paul Ramadier gave France a Centrist administration today by purging his cabinet of five Communists who voted no confidence in the government's economic hold-the-line policies.

Ramadier acted after he had won a 360 to 150 vote of confidence from the National Assembly despite solid Communist opposition.

Empowered by a decree signed by President Vincent Auriol, Ramadier made the following changes in his coalition cabinet:

Pierre Henri Teitgen, popular Republican state minister, in place of ousted Vice Premier Maurice Thorez. Vyron Delbos, Left Republican ally, in place of Francois Billoux as national defense minister.

Robert Lacoste, Socialist, minister of industrial production, to replace labor minister Ambroise Croizat. Jules Moch, Socialist, minister of public works, to replace Reconstruction Minister Charles Tillon.

No decision was reached on Georges Maitre, Communist minister of public health who did not take part in the assembly vote.

Moscow Parley Failure Due To Vague Potsdam Agreement Says Stassen

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen declared today that the Moscow conference failed primarily because of the "vague, confused and mistaken terms" of the Potsdam agreement for which President Truman, Marshall Stalin and Prime Minister Atelee must share responsibility.

Stassen, an avowed candidate for the presidency, told a news conference that he is supporting the Greek-Turkish aid program "principally" because he wants to support the Bi-Partisan foreign policy.

Potsdam Agreement Vague
The former Minnesota governor declared that the "weakness and vagueness of the Potsdam agreement" provide the basis for much of the difference now existing between Russia and the United States.

He declined to appraise the sincerity of Stalin's pledge of Russian cooperation with the United States.

Truman's Aid Plan To Face Test In House

"Stop Communism" Program
Will Undergo First
Test Vote Today

FINAL PASSAGE
OF BILL EXPECTED
(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The first House test of President Truman's 400 million dollar "stop communism" program of aid to Greece and Turkey today will undergo its first House test.

The test will come on a "rule" establishing nine hours of general debate on the Eaton bill, companion measure to the legislation already approved by the Senate. Rep. Smith (R) Wis., said he would ask for a roll call vote.

To Reflect Sentiment
The vote will give some indication of House sentiment, but the final ballot is not expected until Thursday or Friday.

A hectic battle was anticipated on the legislation, although passage appeared assured by what Speaker Martin (R) Mass., predicted would be a "substantial majority."

Unlike the Senate, where the Vandenberg bill breezed through by an almost three to one vote of approval two weeks ago, stiffer opposition was expected in the House to the President's program.

To Split Parties
The vote appeared certain to split both parties. One Republican leader, Rep. Allen of Illinois, Rules committee chairman, already has dis-

Second Week On Palestine Issue Begins

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., May 5.—The fifty-five delegates to the United Nations special assembly began their second week on Palestine deliberations today confronted by a program calling for bold decisions.

The assembly's plenary session will start the fireworks today at Flushing Meadows by endeavoring to finish off the suspended debate of Saturday evening on the question of granting Jewish groups a voice in the assembly or in one of the larger committees.

Two Motions To Be Decided
Two motions must be decided by today's plenary. The first is Poland's resolution backed to the hilt by Soviet Russia proposing to throw the assembly floor wide open to all Jewish applicants for participation and to the Arab high committee from Jerusalem as well.

Majority opinion seems to agree that this proposal has little chance of approval.

The second measure awaiting decision is the general committee's report recommending the United States proposal for shifting into the 55-nation political committee all Jewish groups. This committee report is regarded as having the best chance for acceptance, despite the Saturday insistence by Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko that the Palestine question is "an acute question" and calls for speedy settlement. He reminded the assembly that the Jews "deserve the highest consideration."

Eleven Ships Escape Into Russian Zone

VIENNA, May 5.—(INS)—Eleven Diesel-motored ships of the Hungarian Shipping association harbored at Linz, Austria, in the U. S. occupation zone, escaped down the Danube today into the Russian zone.

The ships presumably obtained fuel from Russian sources. They had been confiscated by an Austrian court in favor of British banking trusts, which held claims against the Hungarian Shipping association for two million dollars.

Council Rejects Daylight Time

Decide That Vote Of People
Last Fall Settled Issue
For This City

PROPOSAL AIRED
AT COUNCIL TODAY
"As far as city council is concerned, we feel the people expressed themselves at the polls, and we have no legal or moral right to change it (the time)." City business will continue to be conducted, according to Eastern Standard Time.

This was the decision arrived at following a council meeting held in city hall today when proponents and opponents discussed a proposal to change from Eastern Standard Time to Daylight Savings Time.

Present Issue
Proponents of the change said that excepting for Farrell, New Castle is the only western Pennsylvania city on Eastern Standard Time, between Erie and the West Virginia line and urged the change to end prevailing confusion.

J. Audley Boak, one of the opponents, said the sentiment of the people was expressed when a vote was taken last fall which showed a preponderance of opinion against Daylight Savings Time.

Mayor Cites Vote
In opening the meeting for discussion, Mayor John P. Haven pointed out that at the city election 3,502 voted for D. S. T. and 6,492 voted against it. "It seems to me a vote means something. I personally was in favor of D. S. T. but I can see the people gave us a good licking," he added, explaining that 3,501 did not vote for or against D. S. T.

L. B. Round, speaking as an individual, said he personally was opposed to it, but so much confusion has been caused, it's a headache and he recommended the change to D. S. T.

Postmaster William R. Hanna said most mails are being dispatched according to D. S. T.

George F. Winter, Jr., representing the Merchants division of the GNCA, presented resolutions in favor of the change, adopted by the Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

Soviet Makes Comment On Marshall's Report

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, May 5.—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall was charged today with misinforming American public opinion and distorting the facts about the Soviet position at the Moscow Conference in the first official Russian comment on his recent radio report.

The review and criticism of Marshall's April 26 broadcast analyzing the recent Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference took up 18 columns in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia.

Phone Company Employees Return To New York Jobs

NEW YORK, May 5.—(INS)—Normal service had been restored by 8 a. m. In manual exchanges and a company spokesman said "the great majority" of N. Y. telephone employees who work in the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. building had reported for work.

Basis Of Settlement
Basis of settlement is the $4 weekly wage increase negotiated Wednesday by the unions and the company.

Long distance operators and Western Electric employees, however, will continue to maintain picket lines before telephone buildings.

Earlier termination of the strike was prevented Thursday when an insurgent group in the phone workers denounced the $4 wage boost as inadequate. Operators and repairmen opposing the settlement kept union leaders from ordering the strikers back to their jobs.

(BULLETIN)

JERUSALEM, May 5.—(INS)—Heavily armed British troops engaged in a wide-spread manhunt in Palestine today for convicted Jewish terrorists and Arab prisoners who escaped in a mass jail-break from Acre Fortress.

Thousands of troops took part in the search for the escaped prisoners and Jewish underground fighters who dynamited the walls of the prison.

Arab prisoners who constituted the greater proportion of escapees were said to be surrendering in "large numbers" after the British sealed off the frontier with Lebanon.

Report 216 Escape
A late official statement said the total of escaped prisoners was 216—33 Jews and 183 Arabs.

Four of the Jewish prisoners were killed in their attempt to win freedom but the remaining 29 still are at large. All of the latter were convicted of terrorism.

Gerlach, who represented the Eighth Congressional district of Bucks and Lehigh counties, was 51. He had been a member of the House Foreign Affairs committee since 1940.

The congressman had been under treatment since he was first stricken in Washington three months ago. He suffered a fatal heart attack shortly after his return from a motoring trip Sunday.

Gandhi Fears World Heading For Showdown

LONDON, May 5.—(INS)—Hindu spiritual leader Mohandas K. Gandhi expressed fear today that "the world is heading toward another showdown."

Gandhi's statement was made in an exclusive interview with Reuters in New Delhi.

Asked whether he believed the United Nations, as presently constituted, could maintain lasting peace, he declared:

"No. Fear permeates many minds, but if all goes well in India then the world may have a long peace."

"It will depend largely on the manner in which India takes it. And that will depend largely on British statesmanship."

Gandhi insisted that British withdrawal from India must take place according to program and said that communal division of the subcontinent is "not inevitable."

Electric Brooder Cause Of Blaze

Firemen were called to the home of Frank Calvert of 505 North Liberty street at 9:40 p. m., Saturday, when a short in the wiring set fire to an electric brooder, the fire communication to the floor. Seventh ward firemen extinguished the blaze by use of hand extinguishers.

The fire chief's car and "B" truck from central station were held up about ten minutes at the Mahoning avenue crossing, it was reported, when a train occupied the crossing.

At 10:50 o'clock Sunday evening, another false alarm was sounded from Box 213, Acting Chief George W. Harper reports. The rain caused a short in the alarm system, and only Second and Third ward departments got the number over the system.

closed his opposition to the bill, as has Rep. Sabath (D) Ill., "dean" of the House and a foremost administration supporter.

House leaders anticipated that the bill sponsored by Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., Foreign Affairs committee chairman, will be amended
so that the amount will not be reduced or its basic provisions changed. A GOP spokesman remarked cautiously, however, that "you never can be certain what the House will do, especially on a subject like this."

Considerable resentment existed among Republican members over having to go along on reductions in reclamation funds—with still more to come on agricultural appropriations—while voting large sums for foreign aid. The resentment was reflected in the recent House vote to reduce relief funds for six war-devastated countries from $350 to $200 million.

Vigorous Minority

Smith led a vigorous minority in opposition to the bill, assisted by Rep. Bender (R) Ohio and others.
The group already has received assurance from Martin that no attempt will be made to "put the heat" on GOP members to vote for the bill. Martin made it clear at a meeting in his office that the leadership is not taking a stand on the measure.

The picture would change radically if the leadership thought there was any danger that the House might reject the bill because it has no desire to take the responsibility for blocking the President's program.

Many of the amendments proposed in the Senate also will be offered in the House, including a recommittal motion by Smith. Bender planned to offer an amendment at deny military aid to Greece and any assistance at all to Turkey.

The House is not considering the measure passed by the Senate.
House passage will be followed by a conference committee which will work out a compromise between the two bills.

ment of $4.50 a week plus another 64 cents weekly in "fringe" increases. The latter included changes in differentials, improved pensions and vacations.

The 64 cents on "fringe" issues
was contained in a tentative agreement reached by AT&T and the long-line union in the first week of the strike. It was rejected by the NPTW policy committee because the pact provided only arbitration of wages.

Members of independent unions representing 19,000 operators and 12,000 maintenance workers voted Sunday in New York to accept a $4
weekly increase and end their strike.
Two other independent New York unions already had taken similar action.

However, picket lines of long distance operators and other NPTW affiliates caused doubt concerning a full return to work.

SOVIET MAKES COMMENT ON REPORT

present an "incorrect interpretation"
of the Moscow conference and answered:

"Apparently it is because the position of the American and British representatives during the discussion of the German problem did not always reflect a true desire to create guarantees of a stable peace
to prevent German aggression."

Izvestia added:
"Their position often was determined by the narrow interests of separate monopolist groups which consider Germany and all of Europe as a sphere for the investment of their capital."

"Marshall now is trying to justify himself by passing on the burden of guilt to the alleged uncomplacency of the Soviet delegation."

To Cause Displeasure

Izvestia said that Marshall's speech was calculated to cause displeasure with the policy of the Soviet Union among broad circles of the American people by alleging that Russian policy prevent reconstruction of the normal economic life of Europe.

The broadcast, Izvestia said, was convincing evidence that Marshall
and the facts do not agree.

It added that the same might be said of the speech of John Foster
Dulles, Marshall's Republican adviser.

Dulles also, according to Izvestia,

BRITISH TROOPS HUNT FUGITIVES IN JAIL-BREAK

about one hundred members of the Irgun Zvai Leumi took a toll of at least 15 lives among the attackers
and prisoners.

About 23 other persons, including British soldiers who fought the Jewish "commandos" at the prison and through the narrow streets of Acre were wounded.

In the hunt for Jewish attackers
and prisoners troops cordoned two Jewish settlements near Acre. Criminal investigation officers with lists of wanted men began screening operations after the troops moved in.

Search Hills

Mounted police searched the hills
in the region of Sakh, for which it was thought some of the Arab prisoners might be heading.

The entire Lebanese border was patrolled to prevent Arab prisoners from finding a haven in the Arab-speaking country of Lebanon. All vehicles were halted and searched.

Only nineteen prisoners were reportedly captured, although several were killed. Eight of the captured prisoners were wounded. Fifteen men identified as attackers also were captured.

Revised figures issued by the Palestine police placed the number of escaped prisoners at 191 Arabs and 60 Jews. The police added, however, "these figures are still subject to confirmation."

Grenades Smuggled In

It was believed that relatives of some Irgunists smuggled hand grenades into the prison yesterday,
visiting day, and that the grenades were later used to hold back the prison guards when the attack began.

The Irgunists, armed with automatic weapons, bombs and mortars drove into the ancient Crusaders' town in jeeps and seized the Turkish bath adjoining the fortress. They broke the stout walls with four dynamite explosions.

According to eyewitnesses, the self-proclaimed "commandos" attacked in four groups. One group in two jeeps passed unnoticed through the town and slipped from the Turkish baths to place explosives against the walls. Group two created a disturbance by attacking the main gates and pouring fire at the guards. The latter took cover and replied hotly.

Diversionsary Group

A rush of khaki clad men from the direction of nearby barracks proved to be another diversionsary group. This group lobbed grenades into the cells of the criminal lunatics, injuring several.

The fourth group, meanwhile, cleared the town at gunpoint. They seemed to be covering the escape of the imprisoned members of the underground who rushed from the fortress.

As they retreated, battling furtiously against British troops, the attackers laid mines in a pattern calculated to make a defense line which hampered pursuit.

The narrow streets were a battleground for continuing fighting.
British aircraft, flying overhead, dropped flares to aid the troops in identifying their enemies.

They were confused because some of the attackers wore Arab garb in the predominantly Arab town.

One report said the freed prisoners in stolen army trucks brought to the scene of the fighting by the underground.

One of the dead attackers wore
the uniform of a British captain.

MOSCOW FAILURE DUE TO VAGUENESS OF POTSDAM PARLEY

given in Stassen's April 9 Kremlin conference with the Soviet chief of state.

Stassen said that "what happens"
as a result of Stalin's declarations is
"for other to determine."

The GOP candidate emphasized that he conferred with Stalin and others as a private citizen and carefully avoided discussing with them issues pending between the several governments. He said that "only time can answer" the real significance of Stalin's promise of cooperation.

Qualities Support

Stassen said that he regards the so-called "Truman doctrine" of blocking Communist expansion as a negative policy. He qualified his support of the Greek-Turkish aid program with three "notes of warning."

1. "Unless aid to Greece is very carefully supervised for the benefit of the people of Greece, I believe it will be largely wasted, dissipated and diverted from its announced
purpose."

2. "We should not finance or army or advise an all-out military offensive in Greece against Greeks in the mountains in opposition to their government. If we do we will be engaging in a tragic, ineffective and unsuccessful spilling of blood in Greece versus Greece."

3. Greece will never have an effective free government "if its political action is fragmented in seven or more political parties."

Remadier is awaiting a letter of resignation from him.

The cabinet is it is now constituted is without representation from the Extreme Right or the Extreme Left.

Its position, however, is shaky.
The Communists are the largest party numerically in the assembly.
In addition, they control the trade unions and can cripple the government's reconstruction program.

Moreover, Remadier faces difficulties within his own Socialist Party.

The party's steering committee voted by a narrow margin after the assembly vote that Remadier should resign his government.

However, the Socialist Parliamentary group voted by a substantial majority that he should remain in office but replace the Communists temporarily.

The final decision will be made at the meeting of the Socialist Party National Council tomorrow.

It is confusing to the recipient to sign a letter with the given name only, unless you are writing to an intimate friend or relative. Many a person has also been puzzled trying to decide from whom a postcard came when only initials were signed to it.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

Soviet Continues To Repeat Myth

WASHINGTON, May 5.—"What Is Truth?" Socrates asked that question a long time ago and a great many people have been asking it ever since.

It is the question of questions perplexing our negotiators back from Moscow. A day or two ago, one of the innumerable Russian propagandists repeated as fact a myth which members of the U. S. delegation believed they had demolished at the conference.

This is the myth that the United States has received more than $10,000,000,000 in reparations from Germany. The way in which this came up at the conference is revealing of the apparently futile struggle to persuade the Russians that when we say a thing is true, we mean it is true.

The Russian delegation raised the ten-billion-dollar figure at a conference session. This had previously been challenged by the Americans. They had presented most careful, documented figures to show that the total to the United States out of Germany to date would be only slightly more than $25,000,000. This would be in addition to $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 of German assets in this country.

Basis of Myth
Supporting the ten-billion-dollar figure in the face of this showing, the Russians said that the payments we obtained in Germany were in themselves worth almost that much. This is, of course, the base of the reparations myth.

LATE MARRIAGE
"I am in my forties with an opportunity to marry a kind and good man with whom I have much in common. His income is secure but not too large. I have a good-salaried position which I can and intend to keep after marriage. Several members of my family think I would be foolish to take this step at my age, especially since I am a successful career woman. What is your opinion?"

Answer: If you feel that this man can make you happy, take him. Even a successful career can not compensate for the loneliness endured by a single life. I cannot see that you have anything to lose especially since you will be able to combine marriage with a career.

There is a thrill about youthful marriage that cannot be recaptured by a mature bride and groom, but although they do not get the glamour and kick out of marriage that youngsters do, they likewise escape many of its pitfalls.

Mature people have more tolerance than youth and those who marry later in life are usually more adaptable for they have had their fling, their parties, their petty love affairs. They are ready to settle down and take the hardships along with the joy.

I do not mean that youth should wait until maturity to marry. Those who find their ideal mate early are lucky indeed. But older people marry for more substantial reasons. A man in his forties does not marry principally because the girl has a pretty face, nor does a woman of that age marry a man because of his prowess on the dance floor. Their settled characters and experienced judgment enable them to choose mates with substantial qualities they need for happiness and security; and, moreover, a woman in her forties is not in her dotage. She is, not if her health is normal, ready for the grave. She has the same need for companionship and comfort as the young—more really, for her social tempo has slowed down and she has more idle evenings.

If she can find a good man to her liking, she would do well, indeed, to share her remaining years with him.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

RUPTURE AND LUMPS

If there is a hole in a tire and the inner tube pushes out through it, that is a rupture.

A similar condition occurs in the human body. If there is a hole in the skull and the brain pushes through, that is called a rupture or hernia.

If there is a hole in the belly wall and the intestines push through, that is a rupture or hernia.

A rupture may cause a lump but a lump is not always a rupture.

Any lump on the body should have a careful medical examination.

Some lumps are simple and harmless. Others are dangerous and may cause a lot of trouble.

It is safer to find out what kind of a lump it is.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EMOTIONAL SECURITY FOR BABY

You hardly can read a magazine article or book or hear a speech from the platform or on the air about rearing children without hearing or seeing something about emotional security of the child.

A certain school of psychiatrists and pediatricians are winning a big following, especially among the intelligent, for their special emphasis on security in the infant and young child and for the ways they advocate for promoting such security. They would foster security by never making the infant wait for anything he wants, and tossing schedules to the winds.

James' Principles
We psychologists who still believe James' principles of habit-forming are psychologically sound and we parents who like to think there is such a thing as plain common sense, also believe in emotional security for the baby and young child.

But we believe that the surest way to further security in a person of any age is to set the stage so he can be as sure as is reasonably possible of what will happen next. Any semblance of law and order should contribute to this certainty of what may be expected.

Certain Directions
If you have ever worried for a boy who gave certain directions one day and very different directions the next you know how unsure his wobbling made you feel. On the other hand, when you could plan and budget your time and efforts long ahead, you enjoyed a certain measure of satisfaction-security.

The child of two, eight, or fifteen who can count on certain things he is allowed to do or required to do over a definite period because one parent is so consistent and the other parent not only consistent with himself but in accord with the first parent, gains thereby a certain feeling of security that is very wholesome. But for a parent to be consistent there must be some sort of schedule adhered to with reasonable strictness.

Has His Way
Grant that the infant who has his way today may right now feel rather secure, what will happen to him tomorrow, the next day, the next week, or months hence? Surely he will reach times when somebody—his playmates, teachers, or other persons—are going to thwart his purposes. How will he be able to enjoy security then? Even in his early infancy his parents "won't always let him do as he likes when he amovs them enough. Then how secure can he feel?"

But the big fallacy of the "new way" is the assumption that schedules and discipline make desirable affection impossible. Thousands of wonderful parents (Continued on Next Page)

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

There is a feeling of good fellowship in the air. President Aleman has visited us, Murray and Lewis have shaken hands and a man in Cape Cod wants to present a 40-ton boulder to Manhattan.

New York did nothing special to merit such a studendous gift. In fact it was hard to say whether Mayor O'Dwyer was more overwhelmed or crushed.

But there is no denying the importance of the new peace between Phil and John... now both are free to fight a war on one front.

It was touching when the two clasped hands, each getting his own fingers back, and then retired to their corners.

In fact the meeting prompts soaring verse like "John, Phil and Bill, happy little trio; now watch the fur fly, oh me, or my, or meo."

There'll be many a laugh as they talk over old times. "Remember that time you accused me of trying to get you attacked... wasn't that a scream!"

TROUBLED ENGLAND
It isn't Merrie England now, it's England bravely sad. It can't afford the groaning board That Merrie England had. The red roast beef is thin and spare.

The little pies are few. The Banbury buns are not the ones That Merrie England knew.

There's misery in England now And ruin stark and grim. The floods have leapt the walls and swept The little gardens trim.

There's many a battered roof and spire That must be built anew. Now, gone the days and gone the ways That Merrie England knew.

But still, the English hearts are stout And what they must will brave. Again, again will Englishmen Stand up to wind and wave. Though rough the way, and sore beset.

They'll see disaster through Till they restore the joys once more That Merrie England knew (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

If some of the people who work in the downtown area would cooperate and play fair... some of our parking problems would be solved. Too many folks who work in stores and offices in the downtown area take advantage of the parking meters and use the street for all day parking. If you would just check the streets and the parking meters you will find most every day cars parked from store opening time in the morning until closing time at night... or afternoon. And every hour or maybe two... the owner of the car will rush out from his place of work and deposit the needed cash. He can get all day parking for 45 cents.

Yes, it's true that he can get cheaper parking in some of our parking lots... and absolutely free parking in some sections of the downtown area where meters are not installed... but you forget... it takes a few extra steps... shoe leather. So the chap who drives to work... parks in front of his neighbor's store... not his own... and is right handy to his job and to the dickens with the customers. "They can be the one to continue... The merchant who doesn't revamp his business practices to the times will just be out."

The store manager... clerk... or what-have-you that thinks he can insult the customer... and continue to make his business prosper... will one of these days find himself on the outside looking in. The smart business men today are topping short and looking around. From now on, business will be conducted on a different basis than it has been the past five years. And the man who offers the type service and merchandise especially service that the customer wants will be the one to continue... The merchant who doesn't revamp his business practices to the times will just be out.

It seems that every business section of every town should cooperate now if they never did before... It's not a one man business anymore... it takes all to make a community a place where the majority will want to shop. And taking up all the parking space by the people who own and operate the stores will never be considered good cooperation by the customers.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

The longer I live and the more I see of people and study them, the less I understand that peculiar piece of machinery called the human mind.

One minute you read about unspeakable cruelties and almost despair of the entire human race, and the next minute you see something that is so sweet and nice and lovely that you can almost see the wings sprout on your fellow men and women.

Here there is a story of a brutal murder. Here is another one telling of a heartless kidnapping of a three-year-old child, driving the parents to distraction. Here you read about people hating one another, of bar-bite persecution, of miserable greed and unspeakable intolerance.

And on the next page you will see a story of a little kitten getting lost in the crack of a wall and a whole fire department, fifty police and a thousand onlookers worrying their heads off about the fate of a young cat.

There are many thousands of telephone workers on a strike for a few extra dollars and better living conditions. Hatred and malice and rowdiness have entered that strike.

Yet the moment there is a hurricane or an explosion or some other disaster, the strikers promptly forget about their own grievances and rush back to work and to what they consider their humane duty.

Can you understand it? I can't. Sometimes I think that prosperity is what kills all the good traits in human beings.

I have seen the same thing in my own little community where I live. When everything goes all right people are pretty cocky and show all their little pettinesses and idiosyncrasies.

But just let something happen to any one of us and see how quickly all envy and jealousy, all class differences and religious cleavages are forgotten and everybody quickly reverts to his humble station as a human being.

When things go wrong all pride vanishes, all ego disappears and we cling to each other for help and sustenance.

It seems a paradox that the very thing for which we toil and sweat—prosperity—is also the thing that de (Continued on Next Page)

The World and the Mud Puddles

WHY NOT BEGIN HERE

Both Houses in Congress—the Senate and the House of Representatives have been muddling over the expenditures of the government and don't seem to get very far.

It seems to me a very easy matter for the representatives of the "dear people" to cur a tremendous slice from the cost of government which the New Deal has saddled upon the American people, but it may be that the representatives are just as eager to maintain the Bureaus for their own political satellites. They have been out of office so long—sixteen years in 1949—that they want some of the "gravy" and are not so anxious to cut the government's expenses.

Should Get Attention
Senator Taft wants to be President and so does Vandenberg and Speaker of the House Martin would not object to have presidential lightning fall upon him. It would not hurt for all three of them to turn in and give their attention very definitely to this subject. It remains for Senator Byrd of Virginia—a good Democrat, not a New Dealer—who has been a crusader for a long time for economy in the federal government, to give the people the facts in the matter. He sets forth these facts as follows:

1. During the late war the departments of old-line federal agencies expanded to seven hundred seventy-seven individual outfits. Now they are proposing not to decrease, but to increase to nine hundred twenty principal agencies.

2. There were only recently twelve hundred federal offices in New York City, one thousand in Chicago, and five hundred each in Philadelphia and Los Angeles, just to signify the mushrooming and duplication of branch offices.

Over Six Billion
3. The annual payroll of the Executive Branch—that's payroll, not total expense—is Six Billion Two Hundred Fifty Million Dollars, which is a billion and a half more than the total expense of 1933 for all purposes, including debt retirement.

4. The Executive branch employs more people than all the State, City and County governments of the nation.

The facts tell their own story.

Problem Of 'Leaks' And 'Advisers'

WASHINGTON, May 5.—One day before he went to Moscow, Secretary of State George Marshall read an article on the forthcoming conference by one of our most profound global thinkers, who, after discussing the more intricate international problems, declared that "Of course, what should be done is perfectly clear." "Well," said General Marshall somewhat quizzically, as he laid the paper down, "I do wish it were perfectly clear to me."

AS well as anything, this stresses one of the principal difficulties with which the men in high positions of responsibility these days have in getting what is so vitally needed—to wit, an informed, sustained and fairly united public opinion back of the American foreign policy. This does not particularly apply to such violent critics of our course as Mr. Henry Wallace and his communistic inclined friends of the left. They make rather a clear-cut issue. They can be discounted and, more or less, easily dealt with.

IN a free country with 140,000,000 people of so many diverse kinds, it is unreasonable to expect complete solidarity on any great question. There is always another side and a defensible, even if unbalanced, point of view. Certainly it is better to have these presented than suppressed. If your side's position is sound, it will be strengthened, by the debate. In the case of Mr. Wallace, considerable embarrassment was caused, but in the end probably the result will be healthful in that it gives the people, as a whole, a better understanding of the facts and makes clear the feebleness and futility of the opposition. Actually, the Wallaces and the Peppers, in their frontal attacks, are not nearly as confusing to the public as the numerous individuals with continuous access to the popular eye, ear and mind, through the radio, the press and other channels of communication who regularly heap "advice" upon our top officials (such as the President and the Secretary of State) charged with the heavy responsibility for decision and the difficult duty of execution.

MOST of these are supposedly supporters in principle of our policy but violently disagree with the manner in which it is presented and the details by which it is proposed to carry it out. Responsible and fully informed officials are told constantly by men without responsibility, and not all the facts, exactly what they should and should not do. One group insists that our whole basic economic plans in Europe are foolish; another, that the personal manner and conduct of our representatives ought to be improved. For example, since his return, it has been publicly asserted that General Marshall might have been more effective at Moscow if he had emulated his able and amiable predecessor, Mr. Byrnes, by holding regular "bullbat" sessions and regaling the delegates with amusing anecdotes while the Old Fashioned passed, instead of "holding aloof" from that enjoyable type of social contact.

PERHAPS so. Who can tell about that? It is only one small sample of the advice now being offered the President and the Secretary of State. This is not to suggest that those who give advice are not entirely within their rights. Nor is it to say that occasionally they are not sound. There is so much advice that some of it has to be good. Also, there is no reason either the President or the Secretary of State, notwithstanding the gravity of the international situation, should be immune from criticism or free from counsel. That is not the point. The point is that to confuse and bewilder the people until they lose interest through inability to comprehend is a national disservice at this time when clarity and concern are as important as they ever have been in our history. Therefore, as one deeply experienced official points out, there seems more of an obligation than usual upon critics and counselors—first, to be sure of their facts; second, to be sure they have all the facts; third, not to be too sure they are always right (some have been known to reverse themselves within a week); fourth, to be sure they are not unnecessarily confusing the public thought at the precise moment when clear thinking is most important.

IT ALSO is pointed out that there is another difficulty under which the top men in Government have always labored but which is especially hard to bear in these critical days—to wit, the "leak". There have been few Presidents and few Secretaries of State who have not been handicapped by some member of his Cabinet or a close aide who steadily "leaked" secret or embarrassing information to the press. It is well known that this President and this Secretary of State are afflicted in this way. It is really hard to bear because it creates a miserable feeling of personal insecurity.

A MAN so afflicted does not know whom to trust, or rather he knows there is someone close to him whom he cannot trust. Naturally, this dilutes his confidence. Of course, to a newspaper man such a "leak" seems a wonderful thing. He cultivates and encourages his "leak" though certainly it is a mistake to identify him to the discerning by too frequent references to him as able, brilliant and unselfish. There is, of course, nothing the top official can do about a "leak" he cannot discover. But it might occur to some of the current "leaks" who have not thought this personal situation through that "leaking" is one of the most despicable forms of disloyalty and that the newspaper men who use them, encourage them and grease them are well aware of this incontrovertible fact.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Gen. MacArthur's historic decision permitting the Japanese Rising Sun flag to fly over certain designated buildings in Tokyo today confirmed his conviction that militant Japanese Nationalism is dead.

The national emblem of a country always has been the simplest rallying symbol, and this is no different in Japan or anywhere else. Adolf Hitler created the singular device of a hooked cross—the ancient East Indian good luck swastika in reverse.

But in other respects he stuck closely to traditional German colors and had black or golden eagles all over the place so that his Nazis could worship a new political system at street-corner shrines and yet remain consistently mindful of the days of imperialistic glory.

Remove Nazism Traces
The American and British occupational forces in Germany have been scientifically complete in removing all outward traces of Nazism. Street signs were altered within the space of a few hours or days. About the only swastikas left are to be found on the table linen of inns and hotels used by Nazi bigwigs and which has not been destroyed because there are no replacements.

These places all are occupied by Allied military authorities who are hardly likely to become infected with the Nazi virus.

The Japanese flag probably had no particularly sinister implications when it was designed many years ago.

It is simply a red ball with rays extending from its circumference. It did not take long for Japanese extremists to visualize those rays as a heaven-sent chart which they could use to plan a world expansion that almost succeeded before it founded.

Reverence For Flag
It must be said in simple justice that the Japanese have as much reverence for their flag as Americans do.

STILL GROWING

The immediate economic future of this nation may be clouded but the stars in the farther distance are bright, according to a Twentieth Century Fund survey that has just been completed. On the basis of this three-year study, it is the conclusion of Dr. J. Frederick Dewhurst, economist for the fund, that the American economy is not "mature" but still growing and holds great possibilities for further growth.

Some of the findings in the report, which is to be published under the title "America's Needs and Resources," offer striking comparisons. For example, the net output of the economy in 1944 was 27 times larger than in 1850, although it was produced by a labor force only nine times greater working 43 hours a week instead of 70. In 1944 dollars, it rose from $6,000,000,000 to $161,000,000,000 and the average income per person climbed from $270 to approximately $1,170.

As For the future, the report says that output could reach $177,000,000,000 in 1950 and $202,000,000,000 in 1960, operating at levels attained in the last half of the 1920s. These estimates are based on probable demand and past performance. If the economy is to supply a minimum desirable living standard, it says, output would be $200,000,000,000 in 1950 and $219,000,000,000 in 1960.

This is to say that the economy does now provide such a standard. But it comes fairly close to it. Moreover, if it is to be reached, there are great opportunities for public and private investment in schools, roads, businesses and manufacturing plants. Whether these investments will be made is a question still to be answered. But the record that tremendous progress has been made in the past and that is reason to believe it will continue.

DANGEROUS TENDENCY

Present-day emphasis on psychiatric disorders is labeled a "peril to national mental health" by Dr. Charles Burlingame, president of the Institute of Living, Hartford, Conn. This statement may seem somewhat surprising, coming from one of the nation's eminent psychiatrists and head of one of the oldest mental institutions in the country.

Dr. Burlingame, however, goes on as follows: "People are apparently bewitched by the masses of psychologic and psychiatric terminology that are being bandied about in current literature. The public mind is turned predominantly toward the negative psychiatric implications in life."

The popular tendency, Dr. Burlingame says, contains the danger of creating unwarranted real and imaginary psychiatric ills, particularly in delicately balanced individuals. People in all walks of life are coming to believe there is something wrong with their mental selves.

It is a dangerous fad. It leads, in many cases, to morbid introspection and to actual breakdown of emotional, if not mental, facilities. Dr. Burlingame's warning is timely and authoritative. And along with it he gives sound advice when he urges as antidotes a reappraisal of spiritual values, parent guidance, more emphasis on affirmative, easily understood rules of health, and less emphasis on mental disease.

FIRE'S CHALLENGE

A release by the President's Conference on Fire Prevention, which will meet May 6-8 in Washington, D. C., clearly details the extent of the fire menace.

Losses for the 12 months which ended on February 28, it points out, came to $581,347,000—the greatest the country has ever known. This is nearly $20,000,000 more than the highest annual loss yet recorded.

On the loss of life side the picture is equally somber. No fire disaster in 1947 has taken a toll of lives to compare with the Winecoff and LaSalle hotel fires of last year. Yet the death toll is mounting steadily because of the increase in the number of smaller fires throughout the country.

The President's conference will be the first organized national effort ever made to combat the fire menace. Fire protection experts, state and municipal authorities, scientists and others will join to study ways and means to reduce the loss—and to enlist the aid of the entire public.

It is forecast that if fire losses follow the same trend as they did after World War I, destruction will reach a billion dollars a year by 1953. Here is a challenge to us all.

"Play ball" seems to be the cry everywhere but in Moscow.

Those performing "unnecessary functions" will be laid off first in the Department in Interior, faced by a 40 per cent reduction in funds by congressional action. Why they are on the payroll is not explained.

'Big Name' Witnesses Are Due To Appear In Conspiracy Trial

Will Be Called In May-Garsson Conspiracy Trial During Week Is Forecast

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 5 — "Big Name" witnesses are due to appear at the May-Garsson conspiracy trial this week as the prosecution turns its attention to services ex-Congressman May (D) Ky. is alleged to have done for the Garsson munitions combine.

Special Prosecutor William A. Paisley hopes to complete the financial side of the case today and tomorrow. For the past two weeks he has been presenting testimony to support the government's charge that some $50,000 was paid to May by Henry and Murray Garsson, most of it through the Cumberland Lumber Company of Prestonsburg, Ky.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Army Chief of Staff, and Secretary of War Patterson are among the top War Department "brass" mentioned in possible government witnesses in connection with May's alleged services.

The indictment under which May the Garssons and Joseph Freeman, Garsson Washington contact man, are being tried lists 28 separate occasions on which May is said to have put pressure on the army in behalf of the Garssons.

The pressure, in most cases, allegedly had to do with war contracts for Garsson companies. The government asserted that May's influence as a member of Congress and chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee had a lot to do with the Garssons' rise from a "shoestring" to an "empire" of 16 firms with seventy-eight million dollars in war contracts.

dieberger of our State Department had in the file on the conference table before him, a letter that hit right in the middle of that myth. The letter was written to the State Department by John C. Green, director of the Office of Technical Services in the Department of Commerce. Green asked if something could not be done to get the Russians to let Americans have access to the technical information the Russians had obtained in Germany, as we had done for them with what we got.

Fact Are Different

The facts are quite different from the Soviet myth. Under Green's direction, immediately following the occupation, U. S. technicians microfilmed every patent in the German patent office. This was not done secretly. When our Allies heard of it, they demanded copies. The American reply was that they were welcome to make copies of the record we were compiling but that we did not have funds to prepare such copies for them.

Thereupon the Russians commissioned a German photographic firm to make their own set. They took a complete copy and, in addition, they gave a set to the British, the French and one extra for us. So far as patents are concerned, the U. S. obtained nothing which all the other Allies did not get.

What we did obtain exclusively was technical information and industrial know-how out of German factories and laboratories which we occupied first. If the ten billions of value come in anywhere, it is here.

Soviet Has Same Knowledge

But the established fact is that the Soviet Union now has all of this knowledge, too. They got it by writing, as any American citizen or any foreigner may do, to the office of Technical Services in the U. S. Commerce Department.

The only charge to the Russians or to anyone else was the cost of making photo-duplication at the rate of 10 cents a page or of making a reel of microfilm, which is $6. Amtorg, the Soviet Trading Corporation in New York, was the agency that obtained copies of the know-how that had been exclusively ours. For this purpose Amtorg has paid to the Commerce Department several thousand dollars. At the Commerce Department, one is told that the exact amount cannot be given out, but "several thousand dollars" is enough to show that virtually everything we got from Germany must have been shipped to Moscow by this time.

Repeat Myth

So if it is worth ten millions, our one-time Soviet ally has got it for the asking and "several thousand dollars" to pay the costs of copying. That is the plain, unadorned fact. It is also a fact that whatever the Russians may have obtained exclusively in the same way, we do not know. Nor are we likely to know.

Yet the Soviet propagandist keeps repeating the myth that the U. S. has obtained ten billions in German reparations. Wasn't it Hitler who said something about lying? The bigger the lie, the more certain it is to be accepted as truth. That is why Hitler has a familiar sound, even though Hitler has been dead two years now.

Stalin's Declarations

To Stassen Draw Some U. S. Reaction

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Soviet Marshal Stalin's declarations to Harold E. Stassen on co-operation and atomic disarmament drew a congressional reaction today amounting to "actions speak louder than words."

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and an announced candidate for the GOP Presidential nomination, scheduled a news conference today to give his own impressions of his meeting with Stalin on April 9.

The Young Republicans set the stage for his first detailed statement on his European tour by releasing a transcript of his conversation with the generalissimo. In it Stalin was reported as saying that:

1. Unless the capitalist system of America and the communist system of Russia co-operate, "the result will be conflict, war."

2. International inspection and control of atomic energy will be established and the use of the atomic bomb in warfare "will be prohibited."

Republican leaders, including several ranking high in the Republican Presidential sweepstakes, declined to comment on the Stalin-Stassen exchange. Sens. Vandenberg (R) Mich. and Taft (R) Ohio, with whom Stassen conferred last week, kept silent.

blood-stained and bullet-ridden, in the arms of dead soldiers after battle. And virtually every Japanese soldier carried a small emblem in his knapsack along with a picture of his Emperor and a handful of rice.

Gen. MacArthur has made clear that he will designate only certain set places where the Rising Sun may be flown. But the mere fact he has sanctioned its revival is proof of his satisfaction that the Japanese have renounced the path of war for the path of peace.

His gesture of good-will may reap great dividends, and certainly he is sure there is no danger of a reborn Nationalism.

It is clear and always has been that the average Japanese never wanted a very great deal although his leaders obviously felt otherwise. They may not again have anything approaching prosperity. But they still have their Mt. Fuji, almost a sacred symbol, and now they have been given back their flag. MacArthur's action may pay dividends in gratitude and cooperation.

Student Trial

Being Resumed

University Student Affairs Director To Appear In Former Co-Ed Attack Case

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 5.—(INS)—An University of Michigan student affairs director is to appear on the stand today in the trial of Glen A. Whittle, Jr., of Chicago, who is charged with attacking a former U of M co-ed.

The college official, Walter B. Rea, may become a key state witness because he talked with the 21-year-old defendant before the youth was formally arrested Jan. 17.

Patricia Ann Brighton of Dearborn, Mich., charges that Whittle criminally assaulted her on Jan. 16 following a private party in the college town. She refused to change her claims despite two and one-half days of relentless cross examination.

Struck With Fist

The pretty blonde told the student-packed courtroom that Whittle struck her with his fist and threatened her if she resisted his advances.

The prosecution has eight witnesses to call, including F. C. Moseley, whose home Whittle, Patricia and several other students attended a steak and beer party the evening before the alleged assault.

Moseley, an Ann Arbor storekeeper, told Prosecutor Douglas K. Reading that he had hired Whittle as a baby sitter for his four-year-old son Jan. 15. He added that to his surprise he found four couples and Patricia—without a date—at his home when he arrived there for dinner.

The Chicago youth stoutly claims his innocence and states that "only three know what happened that night—God, Patricia and myself and God is on my side."

Strike Affects

Part Of Chicago's Supply Of Milk

CHICAGO, May 5.—(INS)—Inside workers in two of Chicago's largest dairies struck today, affecting approximately 25 per cent of the city's milk supply.

The walkout at 12:01 a. m. involved 725 members of Local 754 of the AFL-Dairy Employees Union and the Bowman and Dean Dairies.

The workers struck after prolonged conferences between their representatives and the companies failed to settle a wage dispute.

Negotiations aimed at averting a threatened walkout at the city's 73 other dairies were scheduled to be resumed at 2 p. m. today.

Local 753 of the AFL-Milk Drivers Union back the inside workers' strike by refusing to handle deliveries for the Dean and Bowman dairies.

The inside workers are demanding a reduction in the work week from 48 to 40 hours with no cut in wages, a one-year contract, and abolition of a $2 pay differential which city workers receive over country workers.

Henry Matiste Jr. Suffers Injury When Forgotten Shell Explodes Saturday Night

Harry Matiste, Jr., aged 32 years, of 318 Elizabeth street, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering from an accidental revolver shot wound sustained while cleaning a .25-calibre automatic at six o'clock Saturday evening at his home.

He removed the clip from the revolver, which he laid on a dresser. There were seven bullets in the clip. However, one bullet remained in the gun and it exploded, passing through his right shoulder.

An ambulance was called and Matiste was removed to the hospital, according to police.

He suffered from loss of blood.

stroys so much in us that is good and noble and that, after all, is the purpose for which we are on this earth.

Why can't we combine prosperity with humility?

Why can't we realize that it takes so little to topple all our vanities and our pretenses into dust?

Why can't we learn from the lessons of nature, from the tornadoes and fires and accidents in the air, on land and on the seas?

What good does all our money, all our pride do when in a second everything that we are and have can be wiped out?

Success and prosperity should never make us overbearing or conceited.

Disaster and misfortune are no respecters of person.

who have been very strict in disciplining their children have provided these children with an unusual abundance of affection and love. A certain amount of thought-through restraint is necessary in order that the child may receive the affection and consequent security he deserves. The undisciplined baby and young child, who nearly always has had his way, soon gets on his parents' nerves and they on his, rendering desirable affection between them well-nigh impossible. Love without restraint commits suicide. Physicians Battle To Save Lives Of Stricken Babies

Thirteen Babies Suffering Epidemic Diarrhea Contracted In Allentown

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—(INS)—Physicians at Temple University hospital worked desperately today to save the lives of 13 babies suffering epidemic diarrhea contracted in Allentown, Pa.

Four of the tiny patients died in Philadelphia over the week end and seven others were reported to have succumbed previously in the Sacred Heart hospital, Allentown. The outbreak began March 31.

The maternity section at the Allentown hospital was closed and 17 infants were transferred en masse to Philadelphia last Friday. The disease was confined to the Sacred Heart hospital.

Fourteen nurses and four doctors were assigned to the babies' special isolation ward in Temple hospital. A special call was sent out to drug houses for streptomycin.

A spokesman at Temple said this morning "We are very hopeful of saving the 13 children that we have here."

Dr. Frederick G. Bausch, Allentown health officer, stated he was convinced that authorities at Sacred Heart hospital did all they could to check the spread of the disease.

Dr. Bausch emphasized that "the cause of this inflammation of the bowels is still undetermined."

Two babies who died in Philadelphia yesterday were identified as Robert Gowin, born April 20 to Mrs. Hamilton Gowin, Allentown, and Joseph Sakovits, born March 20 to Mrs. Joseph Sakovits, Northampton.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—(INS)—A new heat wave hasn't prevented energetic Esther Williams from taking up golf.

Esther laughingly said she had good reason, too. She doesn't want to become a "golf widow."

Her husband, Ben Gage, is a fine golfer—he plays in the low 70s—and both of them feel it would be good if they could play together.

Said Esther: "I've taken it up very seriously. I'm taking lessons from a pro. He is very enthusiastic about my progress in the past three weeks."

Esther, one of the world's great swimmers, should make a good golfer. She should have the timing. She still has more than a month to practice before she starts "On An Island With You" for M-G-M.

Esther had a final word about it: "I can hit a ball a mile."

Tracy Needed Make-Up—Spencer Tracy has had the ministrations of a facial make-up for the first time in his long career. On his first day's work in "Cass Timberlane" he was doing a close-up shot. He turned suddenly and cut his forehead on the lense guard on the camera.

It was quickly patched up with court plaster and a make-up man covered that so it wasn't visible. There's always got to be a first time for everything.

Lana Is Cool—Your reporter waited around for half an hour in the blistering heat on lot 3 hoping that Lana Turner, a heat wave herself, would show up.

When she didn't your reporter got back in his car and drove to M-G-M to encounter her as she was leaving her dressing room to go home. It seems she didn't have to work after all.

Lana looked cool in a pair of black slacks and pretty blouse. Of course, it may be pointed out that Lana looks good in any kind of a blouse.

Her honey blonde hair was in a short bob.

"Lana," your reporter said, "I think I like your hair blonde rather than brunette."

"Do you really?" said Lana, "I'm not sure about it."

Los Angeles' east side, down near the gas tanks, is to see Lana in action on location in a few weeks. She's going to play in a game of soft ball for a scene in the picture. Your reporter has heard the uniforms will be out of this world.

Laraine And Leo Seek To Avoid Photographers

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—(INS)—A red-faced Laraine Day and baseball's Leo (The Lip) Durocher flew off to New York today after a custard pie movie comedy attempt to avoid photographers which saw Miss Day dart into the men's room of the airplane by mistake and Durocher into the women's room.

Miss Day discovered her error when another passenger strolled in to the men's room and there to his astonishment, found the actress. Miss Day blushed crimson, merged from the room and hurried into the women's room.

The couple remained in the women's room, however, until the plane was air-borne.

The couple booked passage on a TWO Constellation under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Hood.

A few minutes before the ship was scheduled to take off Miss Day and Durocher tripped across the concourse of the Los Angeles Municipal Airport, hand-in-hand.

Reporter closed in to ask them the purpose of their trip, since the Superior Court is scheduled to rule next Friday on whether the film star's divorce from Ray Hendricks is legal.

Durocher brushed the newsmen aside with a "no comment" while Miss Day remained silent.

Auto Accidents Here On Increase

There were eight more auto accidents in Lawrence county last month than during April of 1946, according to a report made public today by the State Police. The chief cause of the crashes were failure to "drive to the right", or keep in their proper lane. There were no fatalities.

Most accidents occurred on Routes 224 and 422.

There were five injury accidents compared to four in April 1946, although only seven persons were injured this year compared to eight in 1946.

There were 11 property damage accidents last month compared to four in 1946. Total property damage sustained last month amounted to $5,140, while $1,730 was incurred in 1946.

Mayor Of Havana Takes Own Life

HAVANA, May 5.—(INS)—The gaiety of Havana was still today in mourning for Mayor Manuel Fernandez Supervielle who took his life in remorse over his failure to fulfill campaign pledges.

The 53-year-old mayor borrowed a revolver from a policeman guarding his home yesterday, walked into his garage and shot himself fatally in the chest.

A note in his room explained that he had taken his life because of his inability to carry out promises that he had made to the people. The contents of a second note, addressed to his wife, were not revealed.

Dr. Supervielle was elected mayor last June after a sharply-contested campaign in which he promised a prompt and economical expansion of Havana's water supply.

Parent's Day Draws Throng To Campus

Approximately 500 Visitors At Westminster Saturday For Revival Of Parent's Day

NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—Favored by fine weather, Westminster college's revival of parents' day, Saturday, was a huge success with approximately 500 visitors on campus for a full day's program.

The visitors were officially welcomed at a special chapel service at 11 a. m. by Dr. H. Lloyd Cleland, president. Dr. Cleland told the parents and their sons and daughters of the future plans of the college and expressed the hope that the parents will be frequent visitors to the campus.

Also greeting the parents were Students Lorraine Brown, Etocton Mass., and Paul Fiscus, Vandergrift, with Mrs. R. O. Gettemy, Altoona, and Charles Hildebrand, Sharon, responding for the parents.

Special music was given by Miss Jeane Myers, Sharon vocalist; Eugene Lombardi, Pittsburgh violinist, and the college quartet, composed of Joseph Thompson, Wilkinsburg; Donald Davis, Frederick, Md.; Charles Davies, Jamestown, and Francis Peterson, Wolfdale. Bruce Keifer, Butler was at the piano.

Dr. W. J. Harper McKnight, college pastor, was in charge of devotionals, and was assisted by Dr. McElwee Ross of McKeesport, former president of the board of trustees.

A softball game, a college tea and open house by various campus organizations interested the visitors during the afternoon. An all-college party in the gym Saturday night climaxed the day's program.

Week-End Attacks Are Continued In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's wave of mysterious "week-end assaults" continued over the past weekend, police said today, with attack on a man and woman.

Police said Fred Gorges, 21, suffered a severe head cut and possible fractured skull when he was assaulted early Sunday morning. Mrs. Margaret Aquino, 49, was found in a dazed condition after she was assaulted Saturday night. She was reported in serious condition in south side hospital with a possible fractured skull and severe cuts on the left hand.

Police said they could give no reason for the attacks which have occurred regularly for the past several weeks.

MANY FARM FIRES COULD BE PREVENTED

Recent heavy losses on Lawrence county farms emphasize that if prevention was stressed more the number of fires possibly could be reduced.

With the haying season approaching, farmers are reminded that spontaneous combustion, frequently the cause of barn fires, doesn't just happen. It is caused by putting in hay that is too wet, or by a leak in the barn roof.

Farm ponds are providing water supplies on an increasing number of farms, but with adequate care and precaution they should seldom be needed for fighting fires. Too often fires result from failure to use "just plain common sense". Never use gasoline or kerosene to start or "hurry" fires.

In the operation of oil stoves it is important to keep them clean to prevent floor from sticking and burners from clogging or flooding. It is the extra oil which spills out and burns where it shouldn't burn that causes most of the trouble. The oil should be burned at the point for which the lamp or stove in which it is used was designed.

Invariably, these stoves have been found to operate satisfactorily as long as they are handled properly and kept in working order. Avoid overfilling oil lamps or stoves because overflows can result since oil expands when heated.

To Resume Trial For Evasion Of Income Taxes

NEW YORK, May 5.—(INS)—The trial of James V. Bove, charged with evading $100,000 in income taxes, will resume today after a week's adjournment.

Bove, 48 year-old ex-president of the APL International Brotherhood of Building and Common Laborers Union, is now serving a ten to 20 year term at Auburn prison for robbing the union treasury. He will appear at the trial on a habeas corpus writ.

Bove's attorney, Moses Pulakoff, indicated at the last session of the trial that Bove may plead guilty to the two indictments against him. Pulakoff told Federal Judge William Bondy that "after conferring with Bove this case might be disposed of without trial".

Income tax charges against Bove are reportedly the result of funds he received along with Joseph S. Fay, also a former union official, regarding construction of the Delaware river aqueduct supplying water to New York.

Fay was tried on similar charges but acquitted on Jan. 15 in Federal court, Newark.

Connecticut Yankee To Be Staged At College Theatre

NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court", a three-act comedy, will open in the Little Theatre at Westminster college Monday evening and continue through Saturday, according to Donald Barbe, faculty director.

The play deals with a shrewd, wisecracking Yankee from Connecticut who finds himself in the court of King Arthur. He thinks he is in an insane asylum but is finally convinced that he is in court. Facing a death sentence, he escapes death by producing twentieth century wonders. He becomes the idol of the court and is so popular that a plot is laid against him.

One cast will perform Monday, Wednesday and Friday and a second cast the other nights. A special performance will be given Saturday afternoon when the college observes journalism day for high school students.

Butler County Road Work Shows Progress

BUTLER, May 5.—Steady progress is being made in the improving of route 67 from route 422, west of Butler, it has been reported. The County Construction company of Carnegie, who was awarded the $357,321 contract, started the work last October, but discontinued the work until April 15 when work was resumed.

The thoroughfare, which will not be entirely closed to traffic, is expected to be ready for unlimited travel by next October. The road will have a two and a half-inch bituminous surface on a concrete base with the exception of two places, where it will be all concrete. A relocation of the road at one point will eliminate a sharp curve.

The road will be widened from a present 16-foot width to a width of 22 feet.

One of the qualities which places gold among the most valuable of metals is its resistance to the effects of water. Gold has been found in perfect condition after having been submerged or buried for centuries.

Discloses Twenty Allentown Babies Dies In Epidemic

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—(INS)—Dr. Frederick R. Bausch, health officer of Allentown, Pa., disclosed today that 20 babies have died since March 1 from the city's epidemic of infant diarrheal epidemic.

The first official announcement of the actual death toll was made as 17 of the tiny victims remained under treatment at hospitals in Allentown and Philadelphia, where physicians fear not all of them will be saved.

The disease, known as gastro-enteritis, fatally struck four infants in hospitals in Philadelphia to which they were transferred last Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Bausch revealed that 14 babies died in the Sacred Heart hospital at Allentown and two in the Allentown General hospital. The maternity department of the Sacred Heart hospital was shut down Saturday.

The death list released today by Dr. Bausch made the outbreak one of the most serious in the recent history of the disease, which is caused by a virus which has not been isolated and is extremely contagious.

Large Attendance At Gymanfa Ganu

Delegations Come From Many Cities; Visitors Present From Wales; Splendid Singing

At the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street, a capacity crowd attended the afternoon and evening sessions on Sunday of the 24th annual Gymanfa Ganu (Welsh hymn singing assembly) and it proved to be one of the best ever held here.

There were delegations from various cities of Ohio, our own state and New York. Griff Thomas, committee chairman, introduced a number of folks from Wales, visiting in this country: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smith of Pontypridd; Miss Ethel Edwards of Morriston, public school teacher; Mr. and Mrs. Idwal Jones of Cardiff, in this country on behalf of the British government.

With Prof. T. Herbert Davies of Steubenville, directing, and Mrs. John M. Evans at the new pipe organ console, the assembly singing was very fervent and of a high character. A half hour of recording was taken at the afternoon session, when Henry T. Jones, president of the National Gymanfa Ganu association, made a short address.

Dr. Thomas E. Jones of Cleveland and Judge Elmer T. Phillips of Youngstown were chairmen of the afternoon and evening sessions respectively. Robert R. Richards of Butler was soloist. The Willing Workers class of the church served a Welsh tea party in the dining room following the afternoon session. Rev. Thomas J. Jones, the pastor, conducted the devotions.

Two Of Three Phone Strikes In Illinois Ended

CHICAGO, May 5.—(INS)—For two of three Illinois telephone unions, the four-week-old strike was ended today.

But it was still on for the third, the largest of the striking groups. The holdout organization, the Illinois Telephone Traffic union, representing 12,000 workers in Chicago and 101 other communities, was voting on a $4 weekly wage increase agreement reached last Friday night.

There were indications the ITTU would reject the agreement by a vote of two to one.

Tabulations reported last night showed 3,002 against ratification of the agreement and 1,729 for.

Members of the Federation of Telephone Clerks of Illinois and the Commercial Telephone Workers union ratified the agreement last night and were ordered to return to work at eight a. m. today.

Their return was complicated, however, by an ITTU order maintaining its picket lines.

An Illinois Bell Telephone Co. spokesman predicted that by the end of the day more than 60 per cent of the strikers would have gone back to work.

Sen. Vandenberg Will Introduce New Seaway Bill

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., disclosed Saturday that he will introduce this week a new St. Lawrence Seaway bill authorizing the state department to negotiate with Canada to make the project self-liquidating.

The measure, it was understood, will have more than a dozen cosponsors who will press for action on the legislation at this session of congress.

The St. Lawrence development bill failed to pass in the 79th congress and has been delayed in the early weeks of this session until American authorities could obtain some indication from Canada on the question of tolls to make the undertaking self-liquidating.

Two of the children, Rose Marie five, and Stanley, three, covered in an upstairs bedroom. Police said the third child, Margaret, seven, lives with their father, Stanley Datura, 38.

According to Detective Henry Dermody, Gallagher said the shooting culminated a quarrelsome drinking bout with his wife. The couple were married 14 months ago, and the husband had grown increasingly bitter toward Datura, Dermody stated.

Attaches at Graduate hospital said Mrs. Gallagher died instantly from a head wound. Rose Marie and Stanley were taken to the Children's Shelter.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—(INS)—Police sought clues today to the identity of a thug who ambushed and beat to death a 75-year-old retired bookbinder on a lot near his southwest Philadelphia home.

The victim, Lewis Levin, a widower who lived alone, was waylaid as he returned from his weekly visit to a son in northeast Philadelphia.

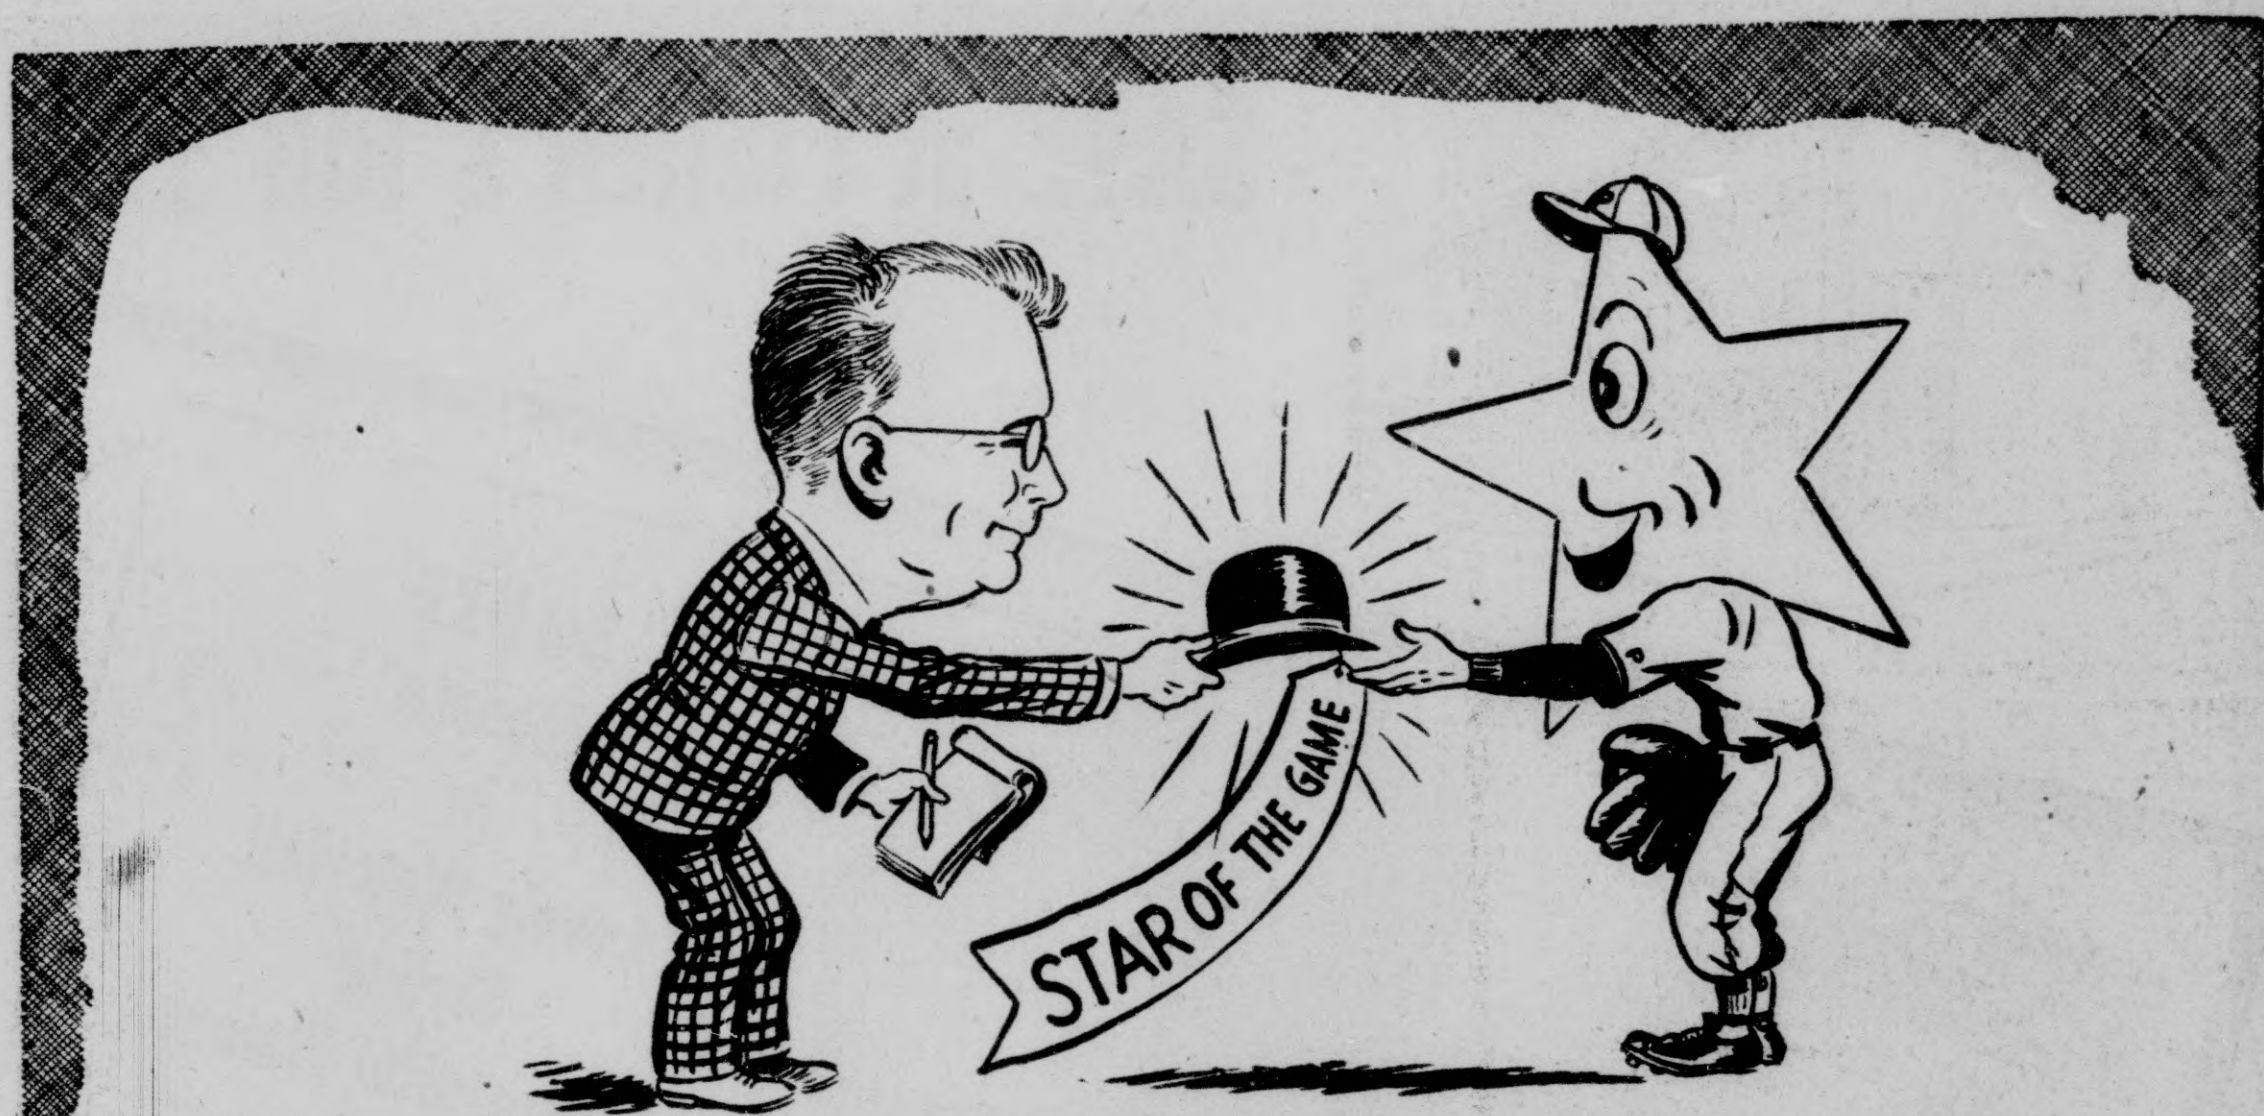

Levin died of a crushed skull from blows apparently inflicted by a hatchet or a meat cleaver. A bloodstain piece of timber was also found near the body.

Police said the victim had not been robbed and his home was not burglarized. His body was found on a narrow footpath running from nearby railroad tracks to a main street.

Platinum was originally discovered in South America.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—(INS)—George Gallagher, 35-year-old smelting company worker, was being held without bail on a homicide charge today in the fatal shooting of his wife Florence, 27.

U. S. Delegation Yields Ground At U. N. Session

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., May 5.—(INS)—The United States reluctantly yielded ground at the United Nations today by joining a compromise move of the small powers under which the assembly agrees to Jewish hearings in the 55-nation political committee.

An American delegation spokesman disclosed the pending retreat of the United States from its position calling for decision on the Jewish question by the political committee after five countries presented nearly identical compromise resolutions during the forenoon assembly session.

The United States switch fore-shadowed an early solution to the deadlock with the Soviet Union over opposed viewpoints. Competent observers predicted that the plenary session would end its work during the day and thereafter give the political committee an opportunity to go into session, scheduled to take place at the Lake Success headquarters because of better facilities.

The five resolutions were submitted by Yugoslavia, Chile, Uruguay, Argentina and Byelo Russia.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—(INS)—Dr. J. C. McLaurin of Toronto, Can., left a warning today that civil war may rage in India after the promised withdrawal from that country by Great Britain in June, 1948.

Dr. McLaurin said he obtained a cross-section of Indian opinion while on a recent tour of missions in India. He said:

"When we asked: 'When the British go, then what?'"

Volunteer Fireman

Killed In Accident

LEWISTOWN, Pa., May 5.—(INS)—Chest injuries sustained when he was thrown from a fire truck during a practice run was blamed for the death of Presty Russler, 43, of Yeagertown, a volunteer fireman.

State police said Russler was flung off the vehicle when the driver swerved to avoid hitting an automobile. The truck knocked down six guard rails and a telephone pole before it was stopped, they added.

The five other firemen reportedly were unaware that Russler had been thrown until they backed up to collect equipment scattered over the highway. Russler died in the Lewistown hospital shortly after the accident.

Route 18 Detour

In Effect Today

Highland Heights Road Assumes

Traffic Carried By New Castle—

New Wilmington Road

A complete detour was established this morning by employees of the New Castle Dunlop company on Route 18, New Castle-New Wilmington road, beginning at Walmo and terminating at the intersection of the Sharon-West Middlesex road.

The highway improvement involving approximately three and a half miles will be completely reconstructed and widened to three lanes and four lanes at one point. At the New Castle Country club, where a dangerous curve exists, the road will be completely relocated for a distance of one mile.

Northbound traffic will travel to Walmo and then make a right turn at route 37039 traveling eastward to the Highland Heights road known as Legislative Route 37041. Traveling north on this latter road, traffic will flow to New Wilmington and can reach route 18 over route 34045.

The detour put into effect today will close the road to through traffic until early in the fall when the work is expected to be completed.

Fear Pittsburgh

Beer War May

Break Out Anew

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—(INS)—The recently concluded Pittsburgh beer war today threatened to break out anew following a weekend announcement by the CIO of its intention to organize beer distributor drivers who now belong to the AFL teamsters.

Shortly after the CIO announcement, Bernie C. Mazon, teamster president, promised to put up a "fight for control of the beer distributor drivers."

Anthony J. Federoff, CIO regional director, announced that the CIO campaign to organize the drivers is already underway.

At the same time, teamster headquarters at Indianapolis promised to give the local teamsters assistance in their threatened renewal of the beer war.

The original fight began last October 7 when the teamsters union attempted to organize the CIO booters at three Pittsburgh breweries. The dispute ended six months later in an apparent defeat for the teamsters.

Labor Expression

From President

Need, Says Stassen

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen said today that President Truman should advise congress what kind of a labor reform bill he will sign to avoid a "political stalemate" on pending labor legislation.

Stassen said that an expression from Mr. Truman is the "number one necessity" in the current situation which he held is full of "political maneuvering."

The Republican presidential candidate asserted that he did not believe the GOP is "trying to put the president in a hole" by insisting upon an omnibus labor bill and trying to stiffer the senate measure with additional amendments.

He agreed that the Republican party has an equal responsibility to seek the president's view on labor legislation. But he said he believed "the normal procedure would be for the president to indicate his willingness for a conference with the Republican leadership."

NAVAL RESERVE WEEK

HARRISBURG, May 5.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today proclaimed naval reserve week starting May 18.

"A strong peacetime naval reserve is necessary if the United States is to keep its world peace pledge," he said.

Probe Sabotage To Phone Lines In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, May 5.—Chief of Police William J. Cleary and Detective Chief William W. Reed today assigned a special detail to investigate a wave of sabotage against telephone equipment in the Youngstown district.

The probe is under way following three separate cases of damage, caused apparently by roving saboteurs who cruised the South Side district Saturday, shooting out telephone cables.

Late Saturday the saboteurs shot a cable at Oak Hill and Indiana avenues. Ohio Bell Telephone subsidiary employees found a 22-caliber bullet used in the shooting.

Prior to that, two cables, one carrying 400 pairs of wires and the other 600, were shot out in West Midlothian boulevard, throwing more than 300 telephones out of service.

Repairs to these cables, as well as to the long distance cable from New Castle to Cuyahoga Falls,

Crown May Queen At St. Joseph's

Betty Helbley Reigns As Queen; Rev. Fr. Ralph Young Gives Inspiring Sermon

Impressive ceremonies crowning the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary were held Sunday evening in St. Joseph's church at 7:30 p. m., with Betty Helbley reigning as May queen.

Assisting her were, Mary Agnes Frey, Eleanor Klaber, Blanche Schooley and Jean Tammello, members of the queen's court.

The procession and "On This Day," opened the ceremonies, followed by "Come Holy Ghost." Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, spiritual director of the Sodality conducted the presentation and reception of new candidates into the Sodality. They recited the Act of Consecration, and received a medal, formally admitting them into the Sodality.

"Mother Dear, O Pray For Me," was sung. Rev. Fr. Ralph W. Young, of St. Paul's church, Butler, Pa., was the principal speaker of the evening. His sermon on the Blessed Virgin Mary, emphasized her virtues and love for charity. He urged the Sodality members to live the lives of Mary and to live a clean and wholesome lives as Sodality.

The crowns were blessed by Father Unger, and Miss Helbley was crowned. She in turn placed a crown upon the statue of the Virgin Mary. A dedication was given by her to Mary; and the intention voiced for the conversion of Russia. "Crowning Hymn" was sung, while the Sodality offered their individual bouquets of lovely roses and placed them around the statue. All Sodality members participated.

The Litany of the Blessed Virgin Mary was recited and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament held. Fr. Young was celebrant.

"Holy God We Praise Thy Name," brought the services to a close. Miss Clara Duff was the organist during the ceremonies.

Henry Wallace Most Unpopular In Turkey Now

By FREDERICK BENDA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ISTANBUL, May 5. — In any rating of international personalities in Turkey today Henry A. Wallace would win hands down as the most unpopular because of his criticism of President Truman's plan for assistance to the Turks.

Typical published denunciations label Wallace as:

1. "A politician deprived of any objective views."
2. "A traitor to his own people."
3. "A servile and unscrupulous admirer of the Soviets."

The Turks, a proud people, are particularly touchy about any foreign comment concerning them. They welcome friendly and constructive criticism, but they feel that the former United States vice president has been entirely unfair in his pronouncements about the Turkish aid program.

As one highly placed Turkish politician said recently to a British diplomat in Ankara during discussion of Wallace's criticism, the Turks "do not like to swallow lies."

Official quarters in Ankara expressed consternation at Wallace's reference to a "lack of democracy in Turkey."

State Legislation Will Be Speeded

Aim Of Legislature Is For Adjournment Within Next Four Weeks

HARRISBURG, May 5.—(INS)—Aiming for adjournment within four weeks, Republican leaders of the general assembly today prepared to speed essential legislation to Gov. James H. Duff.

In the legislative spotlight was the administration's emergency tax program, expected to be approved finally by the senate this week.

The house was expected to concur in senate-inserted amendments to the program, designed to yield the Commonwealth between $134,000,000 and $136,000,000 in the 1947-49 biennium starting June 1.

Republican senate leaders scrutinized the tax measures during the week end legislative recess and it was possible that new amendments may be inserted to clarify the effective date of the levy on cigarettes and draw a clearer line of distinction between syrups for commercial and home uses under the proposed soft drinks tax.

Senate Democrats were expected to battle the program which included proposed doubling of the two-cents-a-package tax on cigarettes, a hike of one-half cent a pint on beer and postponement of the manufacturers exemption from the capital stock tax.

The senate education committee was expected to receive today a preliminary draft of a measure to enable the state to establish a more equitable subsidy system.

The bill, being drafted by the legislative reference bureau, would create a board in the department of public instruction to determine just property values in school districts as a basis for allocating state aid. Duff and the department have endorsed the proposal.

Angelo Prediani, president, will be in charge of the Wolves club dinner-meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30 at The Castleton. Program Chairman Paul Palla will conduct the program.

Indict Father For Death Of Children And Home Burning

CARLISLE, Pa., May 5.—(INS)—A 26-year-old father was indicted today by a Cumberland county grand jury on charges of murder and arson in connection with the torch-slashing of his three children Christmas day, 1945.

Named in the indictment was Sylvester B. Wilson of Carlisle, arrested in March by State Police Cpl. Erwin W. Arms after a six weeks investigation. The accused, housed in the county jail since being taken into custody, was apprehended after state police reopened an investigation following receipt of information from Wilson's neighbors.

Three counts of murder and one of arson were lodged against Wilson by the grand jury. Wilson was accused of touching off a fire which gutted a house near Huntsdale which housed the three children. They were Emma, four; Pearl, three, and Sylvester, two.

PLANE PILOT RESCUES TWO MEN IN RIVER

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 5.—(INS)—Robert Porter, 26, of nearby Conzo, and his brother, William, 31, of Chester, W. Va., today owed their lives to a quick-thinking airplane pilot.

The brothers clung to their overturned sailboat in the Ohio river for more than half an hour and were swept nearly three miles downstream before a four-passenger amphibian swooped from the sky to rescue them.

The plane, piloted by Michael Turk, landed in the river's swift current to rescue the men. Turk, with the assistance of two passengers, W. Edward Kaiser, and Ira Cunningham, dragged the exhausted men to safety.

Jet Pilot, Derby Winner, Will Race Phalanx Again In Preakness

Triple Crown Of Racing Is Sought By Trainer, Owner

Phalanx And Faultless Will Be After Revenge In Preakness Race

HORSES LEAVING LOUISVILLE TODAY

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Old Tom Smith, peering through his spectacles and saying nothing, undoubtedly reckons the Kentucky Derby fits Jet Pilot mighty fine. But he isn't satisfied yet.

He wants to change that Derby for the triple crown and he and his thoroughly game free-wheeling colt will move in the general direction of that crown at Baltimore when at Old Pimlico, they go after the Preakness.

Want Grand Slam
In June they hope to complete the Big Three by taking the Belmont Stakes, the third $100,000 race in a row.

Jet Pilot, which out-ran 12 other colts to take the Derby in a blanket finish with C. V. Whitney's Phalanx and Calumet Farm's Faultless before 120,000 spectators, looked in his spectacular mile and a quarter triumph like a horse that will like the Preakness even better. The distance is a mile and three sixteenths.

Phalanx Will Run
The winner was shipped to Baltimore yesterday for the Preakness, along with Phalanx, Bullet Proof, Cosmic Bomb, and King Bay. The latter was not in the Derby.

Faultless, Double Jay and Riskolater were to leave Louisville today to run in that same big $100,000 second part of the triple crown. On Trust will go Tuesday.

Other possible starters include White Wing, Contest, Blue Border, Cornish Knight and Mite Me. None of which was in the Derby.

If Jet Pilot runs as he did in the Derby, they might as well bet in the Preakness either.

Pirates Purchase Higbe, Four Other Brooklyn Players

Bucs Give Up Gionfriddo And Bundle Of Over $100,000 Cash For Five Players

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—(INS)—The new Pirate management today had come up with another from its bag of tricks, with the purchase of Kirby Higbe, ex Brooklyn Dodger hurler, to bolster an admittedly ailing mound staff.

In one of the biggest player deals of the season, the Pittsburgh club got Higbe, and four other Dodgers in exchange for injured Outfielder Al Gionfriddo, and a sum reported in excess of $125,000.

Besides Higbe, focal point of the deal, Dodgers who now will don Pirates uniforms include: Hank Behrman and Calvin McLish, pitchers; Gene Mauch, shortstop; and Homer (Dixie) Howell, catcher.

Highly Fine Hurler
With the addition of the Dodgers' No. 1 hurler of last year, the Pirates pitching staff took on a formidable air. Higbe led the Dodgers' hurlers last year with 17 victories and eight setbacks. In his eight years in the majors, he has won 95 and lost 72.

The 32-year-old right-hander had his best season when he helped pitch Brooklyn to a pennant in 1941, winning 22 and losing nine. Behrman, also a right-hander, built up a record of 11 wins and five defeats last year with Brooklyn.

Howell, who batted better than .300 with Montreal last year, is a switch-hitter and may give the Pirates the left-handed swinger they need in the catching department.

Mauch, 22, a reserve infielder, played at St. Paul with Ed Basinski, now a Pirate infielder. McLish, also 22, played with Rookie Catcher Leroy Jarvis, prior to entering the majors.

West Side Tigers Schedule Edenburg

Baseball fans of the West Side will get their first glimpse of their entry in the city league when the Tigers entertain the Edenburg team of the county league in an exhibition game at Lee avenue field at 5:45.

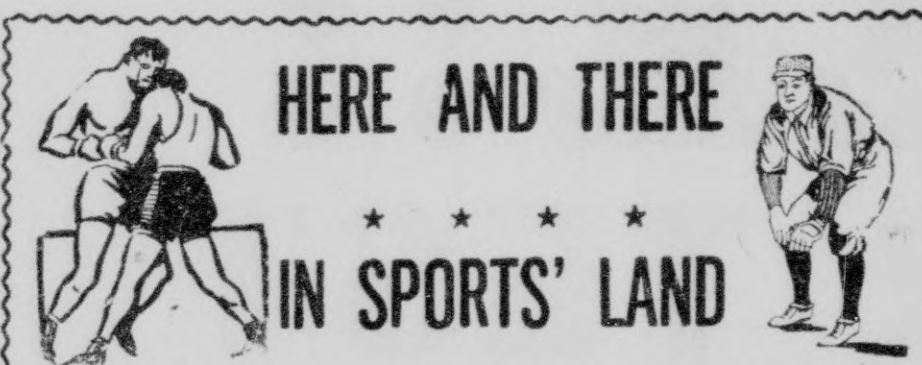

Just who will do the hurling for the Tigers is anyone's guess but Jim Hughes, Smed Pyle, Hank Faller and Lowers are ready to go.

Wednesday the Tigers travel to the Union Civic field to meet the Civics and Friday evening they will meet the strong Gas House Gang from West Pittsburgh at Lee avenue field.

This year's Tigers are the strongest to represent the West Side for some time. Any ball player not having transportation to any of these games should call 1095-M and make arrangements with Len Gilbert.

The West Side Tigers defeated the South Hills nine to 4 yesterday at South Hill field. Morrison, Faller and Pyle chucked for the Tigers.

The University of Pittsburgh, a pre-war power in track, expects to regain some of its former glory this spring.

HARRY KECK of the Sun Tele, had an interview with Gene Tunney, the undefeated and retired world's heavyweight champion who opined that had Joe Louis and Jack Dempsey fought, he believes Dempsey would have won. He also stated that the trouble with many boxers is that they are rushed along too fast and do not have an opportunity to fully mature. Contrary to popular opinion Gene has not turned his back on boxing. "He told me" Keck writes "that if he had his life to live over he would like to follow the same course that carried him to the heights. 'Boxing was good to me and I am in its debt' he said. However, he makes no pretense of liking some of the shady characters in the sport. He didn't like them when he was in the ring and he doesn't cultivate them now. 'No one ever exploited me in the name of boxing, and no one ever will' Tunney told Keck.

Herbie Kronowitz of Brooklyn has dashed the fistie hopes of two locally famed middleweights, having 1-kayced Russell Baxter and decided Sonny Horne. No doubt there'll be a capacity crowd in Yonkers, Youngstown, Thursday night, when Middleweight Champion Tony Zale battles Canadian Champion Cliff Beckett. Roy Crews of Buffalo City will appear in a six-round bout against Joe De John of Buffalo. Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A. C., has begun to lineup the Sons of Italy bouts scheduled for May 21. Rizieri Ronzi and Elkins Brothers will repeat. Elkins captured the decision in the first bout. A local triumvirate, John Mangino, Herman Steinhilber and Mike Fazzone intend to fish for land-locked salmon, bass, rainbow and speckled trout, Northern pike and "muskie" in Quebec this summer.

Jim Jeffries, former world's heavyweight champion, recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday at his Burbank, Calif., home. Among those who sent him congratulations was Bob Lateral, local fistic tutor. Jeffries was born the son of a minister, in Ohio. Robert Mulvihill of Washington, D. C., has been named assistant basketball coach at Fordham. He was a court star last season. They will play the British Walker cup team at famed St. Andrews, May 16-17. Mid-Atlantic league is composed of Vandergrift, Uniontown, Erie, Butler, Johnstown, Youngstown, Oil City and Niagara Falls. The former two are newcomers to the Class C circuit. George Bingo Binks is sparking the A's with his bat, having an average of .412. John Vitale, Greenville senior, was voted Thief's outstanding male athlete.

Cardinals Snap Losing Streak, Defeat Braves

Drop Opener Sunday, But Win 9 To 0 In Nightcap, White Sox Keep On Winning

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, May 5.—Major League baseball began to assume a semblance of normalcy today as last year's pennant winners, the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox, finally showed signs of life.

The Cardinals, ending the most mysterious slump in recent big league history, got back into the win column after losing nine straight games. The nightmare of the world's champions vanished when they blanked Boston 9 to 0 after being nosed out by the Braves 4 to 3 in the first game of a twin bill. The five-hit pitching of Harry Brecheen and two homers by Ron Neethery, captured from the Phillies Saturday, sparked the Cards to victory.

White Sox Win Two
The Red Birds, still mired in last place in the National League race, have much more lost ground to make up than do the Red Sox in the junior circuit. However the Sox, despite their 3 to 2 and 8 to 1 wins over the St. Louis Browns behind Dobson and Fine, failed to gain on the flying Chicago White Sox, who took a strangle hold on first place by beating the Athletics twice, 8 to 7 and 1 to 0.

The Detroit Tigers, matching Hal Newhouse against Spud Chandler, were held to a 2 to 2 tie by the New York Yankees in a game called at the end of the sixth because of rain.

Blackwell Chased
Another first flight hurler, in the National League, got his lumps when the Phillies ganged up on Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati and trounced the Reds 5 to 3 in the first game of a double-header. Dutch Leonard, former Washington hurler, racked up his third win for the Quakers.

The Phils went on to annex the nightcap 10 to 5 despite a homer, his sixth of the season, by Eddie Miller, erstwhile banjo hitter of the Reds.

Other games were washed out.

Legion League Set For Season

LEAGUE TO BE WELL BALANCED

With nine strong teams in the field, the American Legion Junior league will open its season Monday evening, May 19, it was announced today by A. Wesley Mann, chairman of the Perry S. Gaston Post's Junior Baseball committee.

At a meeting held in the Legion Home on Friday evening the team managers adopted by-laws to govern play during the season, and completed other arrangements. The schedule is now being drawn up, which calls for a split season, with the winners of the first half playing the winners of the second half for the title.

The teams which will compose the league this year are Columbus Club, Ecclesian Club, Red Sox, Independent Nine, Wagner Panthers, Sons of Italy, Croton A. C., Post 315 V. F. W. and Lockley Machines.

The Dry Cleaners and the Vernors are to battle it out for the Industrial league tenpin title at the Castle alleys Tuesday evening.

Three Games Launch County League Sunday

Rain washed out the Hillsville-Elwood Moose game in the Tube City yesterday and New Galilee and Wayne A. C. will play tonight, but three games were written into the record books in the County League Sunday as the season was launched.

At Wampum the champion Legion team sent their sensational new hurler, Wally Carroll to the hill and carved out a 6-2 win over Edenburg.

Carroll, ex-Navy pitcher in North Carolina, was the complete master as he whiffed 11 and didn't walk a man.

Bill Hilke tolled for the losers but his mates made three errors behind him. Both pitchers were touched for six hits.

John Marshall of the champs was the only man to get two hits in the game, one a triple.

Vets Edge Bessemer, 10-9
At the Bessemer field, the Elwood Vets staved off a Cemetery rally to win a thriller, 10-9 in the day's wildest game.

Dan Pissuto worked the entire game for the Thornhill-managed winners, giving up nine hits. Andy Ivanich started the Bessemer hurling parade, being chalked with the loss. He was followed by "Lefty" Hardesty, Felix Skuta and Martin. The Cemetery flingers gave up 11 blows.

Both teams were sloppy afield, Elwood making five miscues and Bessemer four.

Harry Kirkwood was the afternoon's batting star, getting three hits for the Vets.
